Paul described his background.

Doug: What is your interest in joining the Planning Commission?

Paul: I have always had an interest in community planning. After spending a lot of time out west, I do not want to see what happened out there happen here.

Pete: You recently went through the permitting process. How did you feel about the process?

Paul: It was good. Very thorough and responsive.
5. Discussion with Planning Commission Candidate Michael Duell:

Michael described his background.

Pete: You mentioned ensuring and writing specifications on a solar farm development in Angola. Can you illustrate how you brought that to closure?

Michael: Back in 2016 we were looking into creating a Solar Farm on the Family Land in Evans, New York. The Town had no specific laws on creating a solar farm. I approached the town planner and was involved in assisting in writing the Towns regulation. I wanted to ensure a dismantling plan with creation of security bond.

Pete: BD Land and Energy LLC, that was your umbrella for that project.

Michael: Yes, I was advised to create that to separate that project from my personal assets.

Jason: Michael, are you retired?

Michael: I am retired from working for others and choose what I want to work on.

Jason: Do you have any clients or prospective clients in Fayston right now?

Michael: No, just working on the property we have here. I did chat with someone about solar farm in the area. But I need to digest this one first.
